Integrated Therapeutic Alignment Energy Medicine Association, Inc (ITAEMA)

Practitioners' Code of Ethics

The Integrated Therapeutic Alignment Energy Medicine Association's (ITAEMA) Code of Ethics comprises a practitioner's duties and obligations to his or her clients, the public, and to each other. They are based on established moral obligations that ensure the dignity and integrity of the profession.

Practice Aims

An ITAEMA practitioner must conduct his/her practice with courtesy, honesty, respect, and a high degree of professional competence in the proper care of his/her clients, with due respect for the client's unequivocal rights and personal dignity.

Confidentiality

An ITAEMA practitioner must not disclose to a third party, any client information obtained through his/her professional relationship with the client, without the client's consent, except:

- Where required to do so by law; and
- In an emergency or other dangerous situation where, in the opinion of the ITA Energy Medicine practitioner, the information may assist in avoiding possible injury or harm to the client or another person.

Children

An ITAEMA practitioner shall not work with a child under 16 years of age except in the presence of/ or with the consent of, a parent, or guardian, or another responsible adult.

Proper Conduct

An ITAEMA practitioner shall not take physical, psychological, sexual, financial or other advantage of a client.

Non-Diagnosis

An ITAEMA practitioner must not presume to diagnose or cure any disease of any client.

Remuneration

An ITAEMA practitioner is entitled to receive reasonable compensation for his/her services rendered, based on usual and customary practices, experience, time, reputation, the nature of the client's condition, and the client's ability to pay. An ITAEMA practitioner should be prepared to discuss payment options where there is apparent hardship.

Non-Judgement

An ITAEMA practitioner shall maintain a non-judgemental attitude towards all clients.

Non-Criticism

An ITAEMA practitioner shall refrain from criticising other practitioners and/or modalities.

Premises

An ITAEMA practitioner must maintain premises to a professional standard and ensure that these premises, together with all equipment, are kept in a safe, serviceable and hygienic condition.

Client Benefits

An ITAEMA practitioner shall, if requested, assist clients to secure any benefits due to the client, by supplying necessary information relating to the client's treatment.

Professional Development

An ITAEMA practitioner shall continue to develop their professional skills and knowledge.
